Risk warnings

Trading of goods, real or virtual, which include virtual currencies (cryptocurrencies), involves significant level of risk. Prices can fluctuate on any given day. Because of such price fluctuations, you may gain or lose value of your assets any moment. Currency may be subject to large swings in value and may even become worthless. You should carefully consider whether such trading is suitable for you in light of your circumstances and financial resources. We have highlighted some of those risks below.

- Traders put their trust in a digital, decentralized and partially anonymous system that relies on peer-to-peer (network in which interconnected nodes ("peers") share resources amongst each other without the use of a centralized administrative system) networking and cryptography to maintain its integrity. This means that there is no central bank that can take corrective measure to protect the value of cryptocurrency in a crisis or issue more currency.
- Cryptocurrency trading is probably susceptible to irrational (or rational) bubbles or loss of confidence, which could collapse in demand relative to supply. For example, due to the fundamentals of the cryptocurrency trading system's functioning, it is vulnerable to fluctuations in the level of confidence of market participants, which directly affects the level of demand or supply. The level of confidence can be affected both by purely economic factors and non-economic, including technological ones.
- Cryptocurrency transactions are irreversible. If you send cryptocurrency to an incorrect address, or send the wrong amount, you cannot get it back. Vaulty will not be liable for executing a transaction if the instruction relates to an incorrect address.
- Vaulty platform may suffer the failure of hardware, software, and Internet connections which may lead to communication failures, disruptions, errors, distortions or delays in payments and trading. You acknowledge that Vaulty will not be responsible for that.
- Any opinions, news, research, analyses, prices, or other information contained on Vaulty are provided as general market commentary, and do not constitute investment advice.

There may be additional risks that we have not foreseen or identified in our Terms of Use.

Before buying or selling cryptocurrency, you should educate yourself about digital currencies. Buying and selling entails risks and could result in a complete loss of your funds. You should carefully overthink whether your financial situation and tolerance for risk is suitable for buying, selling or trading cryptocurrency.

Market volatility

Particularly during periods of high volume, illiquidity, fast movement or volatility in the marketplace for any digital assets or legal tender, the actual market rate at which a market order or trade is executed may be different from the prevailing rate indicated via the Services at the time of your order or trade. You understand that we are not liable for any such price fluctuations. In the event of a market disruption or Force Majeure event, Vaulty may do one or more of the following: (a) suspend access to the Services; or (b) prevent you from completing any actions via the Services, including closing any open positions. Following any such event, when trading resumes, you acknowledge that prevailing market rates may differ significantly from the rates available prior to such event.
